

Clint Roscoe

Clint Gene Roscoe was born in Robbinsdale, Minnesota in 1980. He grew up with his parents in Minneapolis, Minnesota and graduated high school from The Collegiate at the University of Winnipeg in 1998. After completing the Artbeat program in 2010, he has been in 11 group exhibitions and 10 solo shows in Winnipeg. After reading a few books suggesting that he should make work consistently, he makes something every day and has since been published in nine books. Clint took a few art classes at the University of Manitoba and since the pandemic, he has moved outside the city, written voraciously, and self-published "Sirius Rising: The Journal of Clint Roscoe." Clint primarily works with watercolour, due to its convenience but occasionally works in other mediums including acrylic.
